

Marcel Koppes
Vice President Airlines & Travel
Adyen

As Vice President Airlines & Travel, Marcel is an expert in airline and travel payments and a seasoned public speaker on a wide range of payments topics. With over 20 years of strategic, business development, and leadership experience, he specializes in advising companies on the design of successful payment strategies to ensure a stable, flexible and innovative payment operation with reduced payment costs and maximum conversion. He earned an Executive MBA from Erasmus University Rotterdam School of Management.

