

Nicholas E. Calio
President and CEO
Airlines for America

Nicholas E. Calio is president and CEO of Airlines for America (A4A), the trade association for the country's leading passenger and cargo airlines. Calio leads the organization, which advocates for America's airlines as models of safety, customer service and environmental responsibility, and as the indispensable network that drives nearly $1.5 trillion in U.S. economic activity and 10 million U.S. jobs.

Under Calio's leadership, A4A rebranded and honed its focus on being an influential voice in helping to shape legislative and regulatory policies and priorities that improve air travel for everyone. Known for his ability to build consensus, Calio focused the re-launched association on working collaboratively with airlines, labor unions, Congress and the Administration to promote safety, security and a healthy U.S. airline industry.

Prior to joining A4A in January 2011, Mr. Calio was Citigroup's executive vice president for Global Government Affairs and a member of its senior leadership committee. He was responsible for the company's government affairs globally.

Calio served President George W. Bush as assistant to the President for Legislative Affairs from January 2001 to January 2003. As the president's principle liaison to Congress, Calio worked closely with the leadership and members of the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, and had the primary responsibility for formulating and implementing White House strategy on all legislative issues. He held the same position during the administration of President George H.W. Bush.

Prior to joining the Bush Administration, Calio was a partner at O'Brien*Calio, a law and lobbying firm he co-founded in 1993. A 1998 Fortune Magazine survey of members of Congress, congressional staff, administration staff and Washington lobbyists rated the firm as one of the "ten most powerful" in Washington. Calio started the firm after leaving the first Bush administration.

An active civic leader, Calio was honored to receive the 2016 Award for Excellence in Business, presented by the Sons of Italy Foundation (SIF), the philanthropic arm of the nation's largest and oldest organization for people of Italian heritage. Calio was also recognized in 2016 by the Boy Scouts of America as one of their People Who Move America.

Calio is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and Case Western Reserve University School of Law. He serves on the Board of Trustees of Ohio Wesleyan University and the U.S. Capitol Historical Society.
