

Nicholas Young

Senior Director of Airline Partnerships

Hopper

Nick manages global supply-side partnerships for Hopper's air business, including relationships with airlines, aggregators and international agencies. He is responsible for translating Hopper's competitive advantages on mobile into measurable results for key suppliers. Under Nick's direction, Hopper has established a reputation for supplier-friendly partnerships and industry-best growth.