

Jorge de Puig

Senior Director of Product Ops & Inventory

TravelPerk

For over 3 years I've focused on building the Inventory Team with the final goal of delivering the best inventory worldwide through our platform. A key aspect of my contribution to this department has been marked by the knowledge acquired during my previous experiences working in the Travel Industry, in companies like Amex and Avis. Now as the business evolves, I'm expanding my scope and leading the Product Operations Team to complete the puzzle and improve alignment, communications, and processes around inventory and product.

Outside of work, you will find me practicing sports or meeting my friends, which I try to do as often as possible
