

BIOGRAPHY

Anthony Toth joined United Airlines in 1987 in Cleveland, Ohio. During his 36 years with the company, he has held multiple positions in Sales, Pricing, and Airport Operations. He led United's Western Division from 2010 thru 2018 before assuming his current role as Managing Director - Digital Sales. Anthony leads United's global Digital Sales team including digital channels, multiple technology platforms and NDC enablement and execution.

He has been a key contributor in the advancing United's digital selling platforms, new distribution capabilities, and multiple technology sales solutions. Anthony resides in Los Angeles, CA, and is widely known for having one of the world's largest aviation memorabilia collections