

Chris Ramm

Head of EMEA & India and Global Airline Sales Strategy

Travelport

Chris Ramm has extensive experience in the travel industry and has been with Travelport since 2007. He currently serves as Vice President of Air Partners – EMEA and Global Supplier Strategy, where he leads strategic partnerships and supplier initiatives across key markets. Throughout his tenure at Travelport, Chris has held several senior leadership roles, including Vice President for Global Enterprise Airline Partners and Vice President for Asia Pacific. His career spans multiple commercial directorships focused on the Indian Subcontinent, North Asia, and the Pacific, as well as positions in cost and revenue solutions and business development.

Before joining Travelport, Chris worked at lastminute.com and Travelocity. He holds a degree from the University of the West of England.”