Co-Founder, CEO

Alexander Taskey is the Founder and CEO of FRAME, a stablecoin orchestration layer purpose-built for institutional B2B finance.

With over 20 years of experience scaling B2B payment infrastructure globally, Alexander has built, led, and exited payment platforms processing billions in annual volume across North America and internationally. He co-founded Merchant Broker Inc., growing it into a leading B2B payment solutions provider before its acquisition by AMCS Group in 2022, where he served as Global Head of Payments.

At FRAME, Alexander is focused on bridging the gap between programmable money movement and the compliant, scalable frameworks that financial institutions and critical industries — including airlines — require.

His career-long track record in payment orchestration, banking relationships, and regulated financial infrastructure underpins FRAME's mission: delivering institutional-grade stablecoin rails that operate within existing banking and regulatory ecosystems.
