

Jay Popat

Payments Product Manager

easyJet

Jay is an experienced Payments Product Manager at easyJet, where he oversees the development and implementation of the airline's payment strategy throughout Europe. With a background in product development and relationship management, Jay is dedicated to delivering seamless, secure, and scalable payment experiences that align with both customer expectations and business requirements.